The Fabric Year 2021 (November 2021)

Presentation with Chinese subtitles and additional contributions from China Nonwovens & Industrial Textiles Association (CNITA) and INDA is now available for on-demand viewing in Groz-Beckert media center and at youtube <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=t31Ndv8yRlI>

The Fabric Year, result of the cooperation between Groz-Beckert and The Fiber Year, in its seventh edition delivers insights into textile markets, taking a holistic approach from fibers to fabrics. The general idea is to bridge fiber and filament manufacturing with subsequent processing activities in knitting, weaving and nonwovens fabric production.

The video was for the first time shown early October as webinar, offering half-hour executive summary about latest developments during the first year of the pandemic and an outlook for what to expect for full-year 2021 split into knitting, weaving and nonwovens technology.
